MEMORANDUM FOR: Associate Deputy Director for Intelligence
FROM: Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT: Tribal Influences on the Forces for Stability and Instability

Within the context of looking at the forces for stability and instability in the Third World, what kind of research has been done on tribal influences on the forces for stability and instability, control or threat, represented by major tribes in those Third World countries in which tribal politics are a significant force? I would like to see whatever has been produced on this general subject that might be reasonably current or representative.
